This conference uses double-blind review to make it an impartial process. To facilitate this, authors need to ensure that their manuscripts are prepared in a way that does not give away their identity. To assist this, the key items that need to be observed are as follows:

- Remove names and affiliations under the title within the manuscript. May be added for the submission of camera-ready paper.
- Remove references to funding sources.
- Do not include acknowledgments.
- Name your files with care and ensure document properties are also anonymized.
- Use the third person to refer to work that authors have previously undertaken, e.g. replace any phrases like "as we have shown before" with "... has been shown before [ref]"

Once accepted, the camera-ready version is to be uploaded. Also, all source files (Word or rtf files) and the final pdfs of all of the papers should be submitted. Further details about the same will be intimated on due course of the review process.

Figures and Tables

Ensure that the figures and tables are legible. Please also ensure that you refer to your figures in the main text. The proceedings will be printed in gray-scale, and many reviewers print the papers in grayscale. Therefore, if you must use colors for your figures, ensure that the different colors are highly distinguishable in gray-scale.

Citations:

Please list all the cited work in the references section. Declare all the authors of the paper at time of submission. By submitting a manuscript to APGRES 2020, the authors guarantee that the manuscript has not been previously published or accepted for publication in a substantially similar form in any conference or journal. The authors also guarantee that no paper that contains significant overlap with the contributions of the submitted paper is under review at another conference or journal, or a workshop with an archived proceeding, or will be submitted to one of them before the APGRES 2020 author notification deadline. Violation of any of these conditions will lead to rejection and forwarding the details of the author(s) to appropriate body.
